Oxford Notes.

Oxford Leader: A pure food official dropped into our town last Friday and inspected our dealers here. So far as we know, he found no cause for action.

Miss Lulu Schultz, a former teacher in the Oxford schools and now teaching in Marshalltown, visited here Sunday at the C. F. Doty home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Williams and daughter, Miss May, and Mrs. W. O. Edwards, all of Iowa county, took their departure last week for an extended tour of Wales, Ireland and Scotland. They will be absent several months.

WHO IS SENATOR BRISTOW

TO BE HEARD AT CHAUTAUQUA

Kansas Senator Who Opposed the Tariff Bill on its Passage

One of the big features of the coming chautauqua assembly is Senator Jos. L. Bristow of Kansas. Senator Bristow has stood in the camp of the so-called insurgents in the senate on the tariff measure and was one of the republican senators which voted against its passage. He is a real live fellow, this Jos. Bristow, and after he has been here we will all know who he is but for the present Who's Who gives the following enlightening information:

Bristow, Joseph Little, 4th assistant postmaster general, April 1, 1897-Jan. 20, 1905; born in Wolfe county, Kentucky, July 22, 1861; son of William and Savannah Bristow; graduate Baker university, at Baldwin, Kansas, 1886; married in Fleming county, Kentucky, Nov. 11, 1879 to Margaret A. Hendrix. Clerk district court, Douglas county, Kansas, 1886-90; owned and edited Salina (Kansas) Daily Republican, 1890-5; bought Ottawa (Kansas) Herald, 1895; private secretary to Gov. Morrill (Kansas) 1895-7; secretary republican state committee of Kansas, July 1894-8; had charge of investigation of Cuban postal frauds and reorganization of Cuban postal service, 1900, republican. Again bought Salina Daily Republican-Journal, Feb. 1, 1903. Appointed by president special Panama Railroad commissioner, 1905; is now editor Salina Daily and Semi-Weekly Journal; assigned by secretary of war, Wm. H. Taft, to investigate Pacific steamship lines in 1907; elected United States senator from Kansas Jan. 26, 1909.

BOTH AGREE

That Cooking With Gas Is the Most Perfect Method Known

The heat is under absolute control and can be regulated according to the requirements. How different from the old methods, where the fire was either too hot or not hot enough, and it was impossible to get good results with any certainty.

We will sell any person, located on the gas mains, a stove and give credit if you wish it, on such terms that you will have it paid for and not notice the expense.

Yours truly,

Iowa City Gas & Electric Co.
